

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 23.

ure. But they oppose it all the same for no other reason than the fact that the republican caucus has so determined. In other words, they vote against their own convictions of right simply because, though a good thing in itself, the Mills bill is the work of democrats. And yet to such men is entrusted the duty of enacting laws for the whole country!

With a large portion of the white element of his party in his own State against him, and with all except the Sherman element in the North also opposing him, it looks very much as if Gen. Mahone's day of political prominence has gone. To be sure, he still rules his party in his State by means of his solid negro cohorts, but, luckily for the State, they constitute only a minority of her population.

PATRIOTISM is at such a low ebb in some parts of the North, or the fear that it is so prevalent there, that it has been determined to hang the walls of the school houses of the sections in which incivism exists, or is supposed to exist, with U. S. flags, and to have the "Star Spangled Banner" and the other national airs taught in those schools.

The evening papers of Washington, when sent by mail, reach Alexandria, six miles off, the following morning. Whether the fault lies with the newspaper offices, with the Washington postoffice, or with the mail agents on the railroad, is unknown at the postoffice in this city.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23, 1888. In the House yesterday a communication from the Treasury Department was read containing an estimate for a saw mill at the Norfolk Navy Yard. The committee on pensions reported favorably the bill granting an increase of pension to Ann Atkinson. Mr. Browne presented a petition of the Military Board of Virginia, for the passage of the bill increasing the Militia appropriation to $1,000,000. Mr. Yost introduced a bill for the relief of Margaret J. Stephens. Mr. Lee introduced a bill to reimburse the Upper Potomac Steamboat Company for the loss of the wharf property occupied by the steamboat Mary Washington, when she belonged to the company named, near 7th street wharf, in this city. In the Senate, on motion of Mr. Daniel, the bill appropriating $30,000 for the enlargement and improvement of the public building at Petersburg, was taken up and passed without objection.

To-day was the day for the regular meeting of the House committee on education, which has before it the Blair education bill, but, as usual, and as expected, no quorum was present. Major Gallagher, formerly of Wytheville, Va., now Indian agent at the Fort Hall reservation in Idaho, is now here, at the head of an Indian delegation, who want Congress to ratify a treaty made with them some years ago by which they will be paid a considerable sum of money. Some of the delegation are wild Indians, wearing no clothing except leggings, a shirt, and a blanket, but Major Gallagher has them under excellent control, though some of them are chiefs. The Major says Indian agencies are not as profitable as they once were.

The friends of the bill providing an appropriation for the completion of the Mary Washington monument at Fredericksburg seem to be as confident of the passage of that bill as they once were. They say the uncompleted monument has been broken up and carried away by relic hunters, and that some of the Congressmen think a similar fate will befall that of a new one, and for that reason will oppose its construction. But if such reasoning shall prevail, no more monuments will ever be built by Congressional appropriation.

The republicans have determined to offer no tariff bill in the House, but to propose amendments to many of the items of the Mills bill. The consideration of that bill will be resumed on Tuesday next. When it shall be before the end of the session the republicans in the Senate will have one ready to offer as a substitute for it as soon as it shall reach that body.

It is reported in the Capitol to day that General Sheridan is more seriously indisposed than his friends seem to think. He has not been at his office this week.

It is rumored here that the Richmond and Danville Railroad as soon as it shall obtain permission to run its track to its property on 13th street in this city, and sooner if that permission be delayed, will lay a track from Alexandria to the south end of the Long Bridge, east of the bed of the old Alexandria canal, and join the Leesburg track by a branch which shall cross the bed of the canal referred to on a level, thus doing away with the necessity for the high bridges that now cross that bed and the Washington turnpike. It is said that what the road pays the Pennsylvania railroad in one year for the use of the latter's track between Alexandria and Washington will lay a track between Alexandria and the south end of the Long Bridge.

In the Senate to-day the bill to adjust the interest on the money lent the government by the State of Virginia in the war of 1812, was reported favorably. This bill is already on the House calendar, the first one on war claims, and the war claims committee is the second one that will be called.

To-day was the time appointed for a special meeting of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia to consider the Mt. Vernon avenue bill, but as Mr. Stanford, the chairman, was making arrangements for a trip to Europe, another member was attending a funeral, and two others were attending the meetings of other committees, no quorum was present, and the business to be considered was postponed until the regular meeting, next Monday.

The House Committee on Elections to-day began the consideration of the South Carolina contested election case of Smalls, colored, vs. Elliott. E. John Elliott addressed the committee in behalf of Smalls, the contestant, endeavoring to show that there was no such district in the republican party in South Carolina as had been alleged.

Secretary Vilas is keen set on having the democratic Vice Presidential nomination, but his manner of conducting the Postoffice Department when he was at its head made him many enemies among influential delegates to the national convention, and they are already laying their plans to have him eat upon heavily. It will be recollected that Mr. Vilas said he could not deny Mr. Gibson's statement that an order was in operation in the Postoffice Department by which no ex-Confederate holding a minor position in that department could be promoted. Among those who will oppose his nomination is an influential Senator from an adjoining State.

The Senate to-day at the conclusion of the routine business went into executive session for the purpose of reconsidering its action of yesterday in defeating by one vote the consideration of the Canadian fisheries treaty in open session. All the democrats and one republican, Mr. Hale, yesterday voted for the consideration of the treaty in secret session. To-day Mr. Hale has been forced to agree with the rest of the republicans, and some of the latter who were absent yesterday without pairs are present. So it is supposed yesterday's action will be reversed, and the treaty be debated in open session. Why the democratic Senators oppose such consideration when the treaty is the work of the democratic administration is what few people can tell.

Representative Yost says that several of his northern republican colleagues have conversed with him on the subject of the division of his party in Virginia, and that every one of them is of the opinion that the delegates to Chicago elected at the district, or anti-Mahone conventions, will be admitted.

The House to-day considered the postoffice appropriation bill. Among the provisions of this bill is one appropriating $600,000 for rent, light and fuel for third class postoffices.

A Milan dispatch says that the Emperor of Brazil appears to be stricken with paralysis. He has lost the power of speech and his breathing is labored. Oxygen was yesterday forced into his lungs and caffeine was injected under his skin with the result that he became less inert and partially conscious, but there is little hope of his recovery.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in New York yesterday began the election of bishops and after five ballots Rev. John Hyl Vincent, D. D., LL. D., of Rock River, Ill., and Rev. J. N. Fitzgerald, D. D., of Newark, N. J., were elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The pastoral limit was extended from three to five years to take effect at once.

Cardinals Simonini and Monaco submitted to the Pope on Monday a detailed account of the Parnellite manifesto, speeches and decisions with reference to the receipt, and suggested that some new order might be issued. He was followed to jail by a large crowd, and when the doors closed on him a great cheer went up from the multitude.

(Mary E. Ware, Hopewell, Va.) Ely's Cream Balm received; my head is now quivering; Cream Balm is simply dynamite for catarrh in the head. Its application is magical.—(Thomas Lander, Augusta, Ga.)

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.

SENATE.

Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar was the Senate bill for an examination and settlement of the claims of certain States and the city of Baltimore for expenditures in the war of 1812.

The Senate at 12:30 proceeded to executive business.

The doors were reopened at 1:20 and legislative business was resumed.

After some routine matters were disposed of Mr. Spooner said: "It is known to Senators that death has crossed the threshold of my colleague's home and has stricken down, at his side, the companion of his life-long term. Many Senators on both sides of the chamber have intimated to me a desire to testify their respect for my colleague and their sympathy for him in his sorrow by attending the obsequies of Mrs. Sawyer, which are to occur at two o'clock. To enable such Senators to do so I move that the Senate do now adjourn."

The motion was agreed to and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

After the transaction of some routine business the House went into Committee of the Whole on the post office appropriation bill.

The Presbyterian Assemblies. PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning a number of overtures by Presbyteries were favorably acted upon. One of these was for a revision of the hymn book and another deprecated the publication of improper advertisements in the columns of church newspapers. Another from the Presbytery of Baltimore was in regard to the use of the Revised version of the Scriptures. The General Assembly voted that in view of the present unsettled opinion relating to the Revised Version it was inexpedient to authorize its use in the public worship of the sanctuary. Dr. McCosh presented the report of the judicial committee. On the very first case a discussion arose and the hearing of the report went over under the regular order which was the receiving of corresponding delegates from sister religious bodies.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 23.—The General Assembly resumed business at 9 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Texas, made a motion that the further consideration of the pending question, the case of Dr. Woodrow, be postponed until after the return of the delegates from Philadelphia. Adopted.

Election of Bishops.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Rev. J. W. Joyce, of Ohio, was elected third bishop at the Methodist Episcopal Conference this morning. There were 419 votes cast: 300 were necessary for a choice. Bishop Joyce received 326 votes, Rev. D. A. Goodsell, of New York, received 286 and Rev. John P. Newman received 237. The election of bishops was continued this morning. The result of the fifth ballot was made known immediately after the reading the journal. It resulted in the election of Dr. J. W. Joyce, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati, by a vote of 326 out of 449 votes cast. The sixth ballot was ordered and the vote was cast in less than half an hour. While the tellers were out counting the vote the committee on revisions reported several proposed changes in the discipline. One of these changes relative to the relations of church choirs to the government of the church occasioned considerable debate. The present tendency to introduce operatic and other "high falutin'" music into the church service was deprecated and on motion of Col. Ray the item relating to church music was amended so as to make the music committees amenable to the general conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland left Washington at 11 o'clock this morning for Philadelphia to attend the Presbyterian anniversary. The President will leave Washington next Tuesday evening for New York to take part in the Memorial Day exercises in that city and in Brooklyn the following day. He will review the parade in New York in the morning and the one in Brooklyn in the afternoon. At the close of the exercises in the latter city he will go to Jersey City and take the first train for Washington. Mrs. Cleveland will not accompany the President to New York on this occasion. She will, however, make a visit to that city later in the season, probably in September.

Department of Agriculture. WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Senate Committee on Agriculture has to day ordered a favorable report on the Hatch bill to enlarge the duties of the Department of Agriculture and make it an executive department.

The committee has, however, struck out all that portion of the bill which looks to the transfer of the Weather Bureau to the Department of Agriculture.
